

TRAC2 4.2.4.1.5

4.2.4.1.5 - The system of identifiers shall be adequate to fit the repository's current and foreseeable future requirements such as numbers of objects.

Introduction

In order to accommodate future growth, SP designed its URI system to be flexible and extensible. There is no foreseeable limit to the set of URIs or the length of any individual URI. Please see the URI & File Naming Plan for more information.
