

TRAC2 4.2.5.2

4.2.5.2 - The repository shall have tools or methods to determine what Representation Information is necessary to make each Data Object understandable to the Designated Community.

Introduction

SP's definition of requisite Representation Information is directly informed by input from the Designated Community. This input comes through formal standing committees, advisory groups, and user feedback. Furthermore, SP carries out extensive usability testing, through which additional insights may come to light.
